No deal means Silverstone loses 2015 FIM MotoGP

Silverstone Circuits Limited has confirmed it will not be staging the British round of the FIM MotoGP World Championship in 2015. It has failed to agree terms with The Circuit of Wales (the promoter of the event from 2015). Richard Phillips, Managing Director of Silverstone Circuits Limited, said: "We have invested heavily in the circuit and facilities here at Silverstone, specifically to host MotoGP, and have developed the British Grand Prix into a highly successful event. "We wanted to keep MotoGP at Silverstone, but cannot afford to subsidise it. "We are extremely disappointed not to be hosting the event in 2015." The FIM MotoGP World Championship 2015 will now be staged at Donington until The Circuit of Wales which is being built in Ebbw Vale, South Wales, is ready.

Rapist with HIV goes on run

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A convicted rapist from Northampton who knowingly infected a woman with HIV has gone on the run after failing to appear at court where he was sentenced to 12 years imprisonment.

Brian Tatenda Shayanowako, 54, of Lower Adelaide Street, Semilong, was found guilty on Friday at Aylesbury Crown Court for inflicting grievous bodily harm by transmitting HIV to a woman in Milton Keynes between 2006 and 2010.

In a previous hearing on August 19, he also pleaded guilty to raping and assaulting another woman causing actual bodily harm.

During 2002 while Shayanowako was living in Slough, he injured the woman by pouring boiling water over her. During 2003 he raped the same victim.

A warrant has been issued for his arrest and international inquiries are being made to find him.

Shayanowako came to the UK in 2001 and has since lived in Slough, Milton Keynes and Northampton.

Editor's Letter

The Ice Bucket Challenge is not about being cool

I admit, when I first heard of the Ice Bucket Challenge I thought it sounded dangerous.

Ice buckets, to me, meant ice buckets from behind the bar - packed with rock hard freezing chunks of drink cooling goodness.

You would no more empty one of those over your head than you would empty a bucket of broken bricks over your head.

But the Ice Bucket Challenge was compromised from the start.

It's never really been a bucket of ice.

It's been buckets of water with ice in.

It's not always been buckets.

I can't remember whose I saw first. It might have been Tom Cruise. It might have been Matt Smith.

Benedict Cumberbatch really threw himself into it and got icily sloshed (not drunk sloshed, sloshed with water sloshed) several times in one video.

Matt Damon scooped water out of the toilets in his house to make a point about the quality of the water available to the poor in many parts of the world.

Everyone was doing it their own

It was a chance for celebrities to prove they had real mates they could nominate way. It was touching.

Apart from making the donation to ALS (in America) or MND (the Northampton based Motor Neurone Disease charity) it was a chance for celebrities to prove they had real mates they could nominate for shenanigans like this.

I was nominated by H&P reporter Nicholas Bieber.

He did the Ice Bucket Challenge with his shirt off (which I am very surprised his mum let him do) and I did it with my shirt on.

It's a shock. Even compromised by more water than ice and a lack of facilities for chilling a large container of liquid it was bracing.

I was one of those who nominated the council leader David Mackintosh (see opposite) and to his credit, he did it on the steps of the Guildhall.

As you can see online, I also nominated two others. Watch this space...

It's The Tosh Vs The Ice Bucket

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

The ice bucket challenge reached the political top table this week.

Leader of Northampton Borough Council, Cllr David Mackintosh stepped forward to take on the ice bucket challenge.

This phenomenon sometimes called the ALS Ice Bucket Challenge, is an activity involving dumping a bucket of ice water on someone's head to promote awareness of the disease amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) and encourage donations to research. It went viral on social media during July-August 2014. In the US, many people participate for the ALS Association, and in the UK, many people participate for the Motor Neurone Disease Association.

The challenge dares nominated participants to be filmed having a

In his video Cllr Mackintosh said: "The Motor Neurone Disease

Association is based in Northampton and does a great job, don't forget to donate.

He was nominated by Chris Wade of (MND) in Northampton and H&P Editor Steve Scoles.

Luke, 27, reunited with cuddly toy

A Northampton man has been reunited with his long-lost childhood friend after years of searching.

Luke Cann, 27, of Moulton, was reunited with 'Extra Dexter' - a soft hippo toy - outside the Co-op store in his village on Tuesday.

He first got the toy back in the 1990s when his mother picked it up at her local Co-operative after earning points by shopping at the food store.

Luke and Extra Dexter soon became inseparable. But when he was 15, his mum gave it to the charity shop without him knowing. Then finally after 12 years, he has found it.

One Knight ready to answer England's call

REPORTER Lawrence John chats to Heather Knight, vice captain of the England Women's Cricket team about her role in a new sporting era

England's Ashes winning women's cricket team were in Northampton this week at the County Ground.

They were playing their second NatWest T20 game against South Africa last night, Wednesday.

Ahead of the match, Vice Captain Heather Knight came to town to drum up support and get as many people as possible to come along and watch top flight professional women's cricket.

Since its formation in 1927, The Women's Cricket Association has come along way in less than 100 years.

In 1973, an England team took part in and won the inaugural Women's World Cup beating Australia.

In 1996 Sky Sports transmitted live coverage of an England Women's One-Day International for the first time.

And in 2005, England Women reclaim the Women's Ashes for the first time in 42 years—and join their fellow Ashes winners, the England Men's team, for a victory parade in Trafalgar Square attended by more than 100,000 people.

In 2009, England Women win the World Cup in Australia—beating New Zealand in the final by four wickets. The team then win the inaugural Women's World T20 Tournament—beating New Zealand in the final at Lord's watched by a crowd of around 15,000 people.

And in 2014, women's cricket became a professional sport.

One of those in the vanguard of all this change is vice captain of the England's women's team, Heather Knight.

Heather gained nation-wide recognition following her exploits in the 2013 Ashes series victory.

She played for Devon as early as 2005, aged 14, and has also featured for both the Diamonds and Rubies in the Super 4s Twenty20 competition.

Knight was the leading run-scorer in the 2009 Women's LV= County Championship and her performances earned her England academy inclusion and then a call-up to the senior tour of India in place of the injured Sarah Taylor during February 2010.

She continued to be an ODI regular during 2012 and helped England finish third at the 2013 World Cup in India.

Knight was named player of the series in the 2013 Women's Ashes

While many could see her as a standard bearer for women's cricket, Heather is more concerned about doing her best for her country.

She said: "I don't know if I am a standard bearer all I try to do is play well for England and take a few wickets, score runs and help England win games."

She said: "The squad is excited to go professional as a lot of the other teams are professional."

"By being professional gives us a lot more time to concentrate on cricket and not worry about working."

"It means we have more responsibility to perform."

Heather who is from Devon started playing cricket in leagues which included men and women.

She said: "I never played women's cricket and I think I became a more technical player."

"I love playing for England and giving it my all when I represent my country."

"There is always a buzz when playing for England."

"I always aim to do well and try to achieve my best."

"There are new challenges around every corner which drive me on."

Five sheep killed after dog attack

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrencejohn@hpnorthants.co.uk

Five sheep have been killed in a field in Burton Latimer.

Police have launched an appeal for witness after the animals were found dead in a field by the railway sidings in Burton Latimer last week.

It is believed the sheep were attacked by a dog sometime between 9am and 11pm on Wednesday, August, 27.

A spokesperson from the National Union of Farmers (NPU) said: "Someone somewhere will have known this has happened as their dog would have been covered in blood.

"This is something which needs to be gripped and if you are a dog owner you should never trust your dog near sheep just to be on the safe side.

"If you have a dog then you need to keep them under control at all times.

"You only need one bad dog to lead others on.

"This could have been a case of a dog escaping from a house, jumping over the fence and going out as it was bored as it was not getting enough exercise and then this happens.

"The farmer is within his rights to shoot a dog if it is very much a last resort and they would always try and catch it."

Witnesses, or anyone with information are asked to call Northamptonshire Police on 101.

Alternatively, they can call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough & Corby areas and Trevor is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

"We are pleased to be in the final stages. Encouraging entrepreneurship is crucial to the university and enhances the experience and employability prospects we offer to our students."

Nene Park to be demolished

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Plans are in the pipeline to demolish Rushden & Diamonds former stadium at Nene Park and build a retail park.

The proposals are set to be unveiled at a Public Consultation event at Huxlow Science College later this month.

The scheme includes a new multi-use football facility for use by the community as well as a family leisure and entertainment zone will be created together with a retail zone, as a complementary offer to the existing town centre and other proposed developments in the area.

This regeneration of Nene Park is being undertaken by consultancy firm called Rose on behalf of the owners of Nene park.

On its website, Rose states it is "An independent professional property consultancy providing Project Management and Building Consultancy Services tailored to suit the individual needs of our clients."

Spokesperson from Rose, Tim Morris said:

"This is about the redevelopment of the whole of Nene Park which included the former home of Rushden & Diamonds.

"This will be demolished as it is not cost effective to keep it as a football stadium.

"What will be built will be a mixture of retail units such as restaurants."

The proposals will be on show to the Public at Huxlow Science College from 4pm to 7pm on Friday, September 19 and 10am to 2pm on Saturday, September 20

A Kuehne + Nagel's spokesperson said:

CHANTING: Protesters were out in force as they chanted 'No if's, no buts, no NHS cuts'

Hundreds march through town in NHS protest

Hundreds of protesters marched through Northampton town centre on Monday evening as part of a national march against NHS cuts.

A 300-mile People's March, involving more than 60 passionate men and women, passed through the town at 6.30, an hour later than expected.

Entering the town centre, they chanted "Whose NHS? Your NHS. Whose NHS? My NHS. Whose NHS? Our NHS."

Protester Bianca Todd, who organised the Northampton leg of the march, said: "The turn out for Northampton was fantastic. It shows that the people of Northampton really care about the NHS."

The march, which began on August 16, takes the same route as the Jarrow March of 78 years ago from Jarrow to London. It is all in the aim of raising awareness of the privatisation of the NHS.

'We will halt care home plans again'

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Controversial plans to convert a former Northampton care home into a block of flats have been resubmitted to the borough council, despite major opposition from people who live nearby.

The scheme would see the former Lakeview House care home in Eastfield, which closed in 2010, converted into 20 flats.

This will be the second attempt at converting the home. In the last application in November 2013, the plans were initially going to include 28 flats.

But after a strong backlash from Lakeview residents, who want to see the home turned into accommodation for the elderly so that it is 'in keeping with the area', and a petition signed by 300 people, the application was rejected.

When the Northants Herald and Post contacted Bernard Kelly, the chairman of the Lakeview Residents' Association, to tell him that plans have been resubmitted, he said: "We are very disappointed."

"But I can't say we are surprised because of our previous dealings with the developers Sustain Renewable LTD."

"They are just going ahead with the plans to do whatever they want without considering our feelings on it."

"But we shall object to it, as we have done before, and the fight goes on to stop this happening."

Laurence Wilbraham, of planning consultants Wilbraham Associates Limited, said: "We have listened to the residents and have decreased the number of flats and parking spaces, which is what they wanted."

Rangers and wardens aim to clean up green spaces

Another neighbourhood warden and two new park rangers have taken up their posts with Northampton Borough Council to help look after the town's communities and green spaces.

As well as the new recruits, the council has invested in a third vehicle to help rangers and wardens broaden the reach of the service they provide.

The new recruits bring the total number of neighbourhood wardens serving the town to 15 and park rangers to six.

MUSTHAVE

A thrupenny

Northampton musical genius Mark Thursby, when not teaching, spends most of his time turning it up to 11 while he blasts out his latest composition from a hi-fi speaker stack.

However Mark also has a sentimental side and evidence of that is the thrupenny bit he always has on his person. It is pre-decimal coinage given to him by his grandmother before she passed away and he now carries it as a memento of her.

WILL NGH PARKING EVER BE SOLVED?

Sally Beardsworth

The leader of the Liberal group on Northampton Borough Council asks in her blog this week whether there is any hope for the parking situation at Northampton General Hospital...

In the news recently we have heard a lot about the parking problems in many hospitals across the Country.

It's not a problem peculiar to Northampton, but it is one we share. It could so easily be rectified by building additional levels on the car park – similar to the 'racking' system at the railway station, or a more permanent second level, like we have seen at Sainsbury's recently.

It has become a real problem for people visiting the hospital, not only that parking is expensive, but the machines break down and you need to go to the office – but even after all that, often, you can't find a parking space at all.

This can lead to people being late to appointments, or to visit their loved ones. In a hospital, this could be truly tragic.

I have put in a motion at Northampton Borough Council meeting on September 15 asking what the we can do to help the hospital overcome these issues.

Hopefully, the council can work proactively with all partners to make sure that the residents of the town, and the users of the hospital, are not troubled by something as mundane as parking their car when, often, they have far more important things to be worrying about.

I am certain that all councillors have been approached by residents concerned by the problem, and will feel as strongly as I do that we should do everything we can.

Your Herald & Post Letters

Labour candidate's response to MP Brian Binley's letter to PM

Dear Mr Binley,

I read with interest your open letter to David Cameron earlier this month.

I was surprised that the priority you choose to raise is reducing the upper rate of tax.

Week in, week out I'm out on the doorsteps of Northampton South listening to the hopes and anxieties of local families. And what I hear loud and clear from St James to Rectory

Farm, Billing to Semilong is that people in our town are still finding it hard to make ends meet: the much anticipated economic recovery is not felt on the streets of Northampton. This is no more apparent than on my recent visit to the Northampton Food Bank, where I saw first-hand that far too many of our families are on the margins – struggling to keep their head above water week to week.

I am shocked that the struggles of those earning least, those searching for work and those suffering from botched Tory benefit reforms do not even warrant a mention on your priority list.

It's rates of pay, not rates of tax for high earners which dominate my conversations and fill my inbox. And for those in work job security is a massive concern – that's why I fully support Labour's proposals to strengthen the minimum wage and outlaw exploitative zero hours contracts.

The release of this month's inflation figures show that for yet another month under your Conservative government prices have gone up faster than wages. Month after month hard work doesn't pay off, and people are left with less.

All of this adds up to one unavoidable truth: we're suffering a cost of living crisis in Northampton South.

The Tory priority is clear: you supported a tax cut for millionaires and now call for further tax cuts as your top priority.

Labour's priority is clear: we will build a recovery which benefits the many and not the few.

Only Labour is on the side of ordinary families in Northampton South.

Yours Sincerely,
Kevin McKeever, Labour Parliamentary Candidate for Northampton South

Spate of collisions

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Over the weekend a 'problem road' in Northampton was hit by further accidents.

Gladstone Road was hit by two car crashes, which comes during a spate of collisions which have already taken place this year.

As a result of the accidents, Cllr Gareth Eales (Labour, Dallington Spencer) is now calling for swift action to be taken.

He said: "There was an accident involving three vehicles recently which resulted in Gladstone Road being closed for a time and there's been two more accidents again this weekend, this is on-top of historic accidents and many near misses, so some swift action needs to be taken to ascertain the root cause and any remedial action needed to ensure public safety." In May the rumble strips were removed from Gladstone Road following a three year campaign led by Cllr Eales due to the surface causing noise and disturbance to residents. Cllr Eales insists this hasn't caused the accidents.

MEETING: Joanna Lumley and Caroline Scattergood from Northampton

An Ad Fab moment for Caroline

Caroline Scattergood from Northampton had her very own 'Ad Fab' moment in London.

She was one of the special guests at the at the Office of Tibet to welcome His Holiness the Dalai Lama's new Representative Chonpel Tsering.

He is now the Representative for Northern Europe, the Baltic States and Poland.

While she was there she met one of the other guests none other than Joanna Lumley.

Both Caroline and Joanna have been campaigning for years for the rights of the Tibetan people as their country is governed by China.

The departing Representative Thubten Samdup made a farewell speech, after five years in office.

He thanked Joanna and Caroline for their tireless work on behalf of the Tibetan people.

He also thanked the councillors, MP's and people throughout the county for raising the Tibetan flag outside the Guildhall in Northampton every year for the past fifteen years.

Can't forget holiday food

H&P editor Steve Scoles is taking Derngate Gym's Body Fat Challenge

It's been hard to shake off the holiday eating mindset.

Two weeks off two weeks ago meant four missed training sessions.

I gained a couple of pounds in weight but probably more disruptive than the lack of intensive exercise was the liberal food regime I allowed myself.

You might be surprised by what your weakness is.

I have found it relatively easy to resist crisps, chocolate and puddings.

But can I walk past a crusty white loaf when there is spread and Marmite in the vicinity?

I find it very difficult.

I love the nutty crunch of the crust and the cotton soft texture of the bread inside.

I will be buttering the second slice before I have even finished the first cheeky slice.

This is about knowing yourself and deep down I know that only one approach will work for me. Prohibition.

No cheeky slices because it will never be just one cheeky slice.

I need to clamp down because Martin is eager for me to a) start working on building muscle definition and b) find myself a good challenge to work towards. I am going to take part in the Cycle 4 Cynthia bike ride but he's really thinking of something a little more adventurous than me pootling round the short course on my mountain bike.

I'm still open to suggestions but I'm veering towards some kind of cyclocross event (a combination of riding and running with your bike on your shoulder).

That's all for the future. In the meantime I am looking at extending my experience with the Body Fat Challenge.

If you are signed up on it there are also classes you can attend.

There is Thai Bo, and Abs Burn which sound serious. Anyone for legs, bums and tums?

24 hours in police

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER

nicholas.bieber@northants.co.uk

Standing in the force control room at Northants Police HQ, it was unbelievable to hear a member of the public who had dialled 999 to tell the police that her mobile phone had ran out of credit.

This was just one of what was expected to be around 1,000 calls made to the police in 24 hours on Monday.

As each call came through, a Tweet went out - as it was also the same day that the force decided to hold a 'Tweetathon' - offering Twitter users in Northamptonshire an insight into life on the police force, live from the control room.

From 7am on Monday until 7am the next day, the force's control room team posted tweets, using the hashtag #FCR24, to relay the wide spectrum of incidents that come through from members of the public.

"We did this because we wanted to make people more aware of what we do here," said Chief Inspector Fay Tennet, who manages the control room.

"I think there is a misconception from people that we

CALL HANDLER: David Cook is hoping the Tweetathon has opened people's eyes into the world of the control room at Northants Police HQ just have a bank of telephones where people are picking them up and just immediately dispatching police officers - but of course that is not what happens.

"We have to make an assessment of every single call and see what the best service is that we can offer.

"I would also like to see people more aware of when to dial 999 or 101 instead, as we receive a lot of 999 calls here that aren't actually genuine emergencies."

On Monday, there were quite a few unnecessary calls made to 999. You can see some examples of in our factbox above.

When a 999 call comes through to the control room, the operator will start with: "Northamptonshire Police, what is your emergency and where are you?"

The call handler will then continue to ask questions, and at the same time he or she will electronically go up to the dispatch department and say 'Send a police officer now'.

As the call handler then continues to ask questions,

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerve often called "sciatica".

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

In Bedfordshire, you can try Non-Surgical Re-constructive Spinal Care at the Atlas Wellness Centre - the office of low back pain and sciatica relief expert Peter Olsson.

Peter and his team of fully trained spinal care specialists have helped over 3,000 patients find relief from their agonising back pain and sciatica.

According to Peter, "We use a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your low back pain and sciatica; and a unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the pain; this means superior long-term results for most people."

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge says, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg.

I couldn't work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I'm so glad she kept on at me.

Thank god I called your number, I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

IMPRESSIVE: Jeremy scored 25 points on the show

County man scores high on Mastermind

A Northamptonshire resident appeared on BBC Two's Mastermind on Friday night.

Jeremy Renals, a college tutor of King's Sutton, took to the famous black chair and chose the short stories of Edgar Allan Poe as his specialist subject.

By the end of the show, Jeremy scored 25 points - 14 points on his specialist subject and 11 points in the general knowledge round. He finished joint second.

County MP's job fair set to return

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

A Northamptonshire MP is delighted his jobs fair is back bigger and better than before.

Northampton North MP will be holding his third jobs fair at The Guildhall in Northampton on September 12 from 10am - 4pm.

Forty companies from across the county will be attending including: Coca-

Cola, UPS, Church's Shoes, ASDA, Shoosmiths Solicitors, Royal Mail, The Prince's Trust Charity, Nationwide Building Society and Greencore.

Mr Ellis said: "Last year more than 2,000 people came through the doors in six hours looking to find jobs."

"This year we have been oversubscribed with the number of business which wanted to take part.

"There will also be three seminars throughout the day.

"These will be free for anyone who attends and will be where people can listen to information about to improve their CVs, how to fill in job application forms and how they can better prepare for job interviews."

Welcome. . .

What's the first thing you should do when you want to move? Sit down.

It sounds like I'm talking in riddles but it's really very simple. Sit down with your Herald and Post property supplement and see what's out there.

You'll do a lot of research whether you are buying or selling so make sure you start with the newspaper with the biggest circulation in the county. And in these pages you'll find not just an amazing array of expertise in the businesses that advertise here but some of the nicest people you could hope to meet along the way. Why shouldn't they be? A new home is a big dream for some, a smaller dream for others but when the keys are handed over it's always a dream come true. Good luck with your search, you're starting in the right place...

Warm regards,
Alan Doyle

WHAT'S ON ROUND-UP

Soul sensation Lisa Stansfield set to shine

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrencejohn@hpnorthants.co.uk

Twenty five years after topping the charts globally Lisa Stansfield performs songs from her new album, at Royal & Derngate, on Tuesday, September 9 as part of her latest tour.

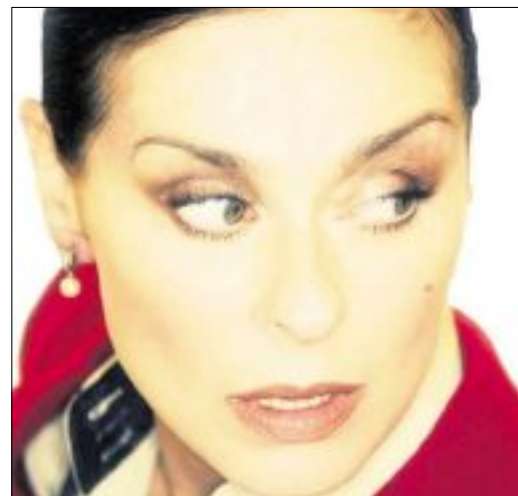

Lisa is famously known for her single All Around The World which kick-started her astounding career.

As a result, Lisa has returned to her roots of soul and R&B to bring audiences an entertaining and soulful performance. Joined by a live band on stage, Lisa will perform songs from her new album Seven, along with some of her classic and most popular hits from her successful twenty five year career.

Song-writing partner Ian Devaney comments on the album's meaning and overall feel, describing it as 'a soul record and while it is eclectic there is a thread running through it.'

"A lot of the album is about the trap that a woman has got herself into; an unrequited, doomed or mismatched love and how to get herself out of it... if she can."

Lisa herself comments on her ability to tell stories and create characters within her songs and lyrics on the album, saying 'I think we all suffer the same pain, all feel the same happiness, and we all have the same emotions within us.'

"My life isn't very racy or exciting so I make things up, tell stories."

"I like telling stories." The Times hailed Lisa as having 'the most distinctive and sensuous voice in soul pop' while the Sunday

Express described the album as 'beautifully arranged, beautifully recorded and very well sung.'

There is limited tickets left but if you are quick you can join Lisa Stansfield at Royal & Derngate on Tuesday, September 9 at 7.30pm.

Tickets are cost from £27.50 to £37.50 and can be booked by calling Box Office on 01604 624811, or online at www.royalandderngate.co.uk

SUNDAY

Sunday Sounds @ Malt Shovel Tavern

Bringing you a mix of some of your favourite bands on a number of Sunday afternoons from 4pm.

There was always going to be a big First World War themed production at Royal and Derngate this year. Adapting Regeneration, Pat Barker's modern classic, was a courageous choice that has paid off with intelligent and interesting drama.

Nicholas Wright's play revolves around a group of soldiers at Craiglockhart, a Scottish hospital for victims of 'war neuroses' including the war poets Siegfried Sassoon and Wilfred Owen.

The play reveals what brought them to the hospital and what it takes for them to leave, and on the way it will surprise you, shock you and move you - and all without recourse to excessive unsoldierly sentiment.

Tim Delap's dashing portrayal of Sassoon is entirely convincing. He displays just the right amount of caddish comfort at having people hanging on his every word including his therapist foil Captain Rivers played by Stephen Boxer.

Inside the new Volkswagen Test drive

- £43,000-£47,500
- Emissions: 173-180g/km
- 0-62mph 7.2s
- Max Speed 140mph
- (combined) 42.8mpg

Volkswagen's Touareg range is now powered exclusively by 3.0-litre diesel engines available in either 204 or 262PS outputs. The styling has been facelifted and you now get even more gear for your money. There's an off-road oriented Escape version on offer and prices are now on a par with the pricier compact SUVs.

The refresh to the Volkswagen Touareg is welcome but it doesn't disguise the fact that this model is getting a little long in the tooth. As long as you don't feel the need to have the newest and freshest thing on the market, the Touareg still has a lot to be said for it. It's tough, drives well and as long as you don't need seven seats, it's hard to pick holes in its practicality. In order to convince buyers of the Touareg's appeal, Volkswagen has also loaded these latest models up with quite a lot of standard kit and priced them keenly.

DESIGNATION OF AN AREA FOR ADDITIONAL LICENSING OF HOUSES IN MULTIPLE OCCUPATION (HMO'S) - SECTION 56 HOUSING ACT 2004

Notice is hereby given that Northampton Borough Council ("the Council") has on 3 July 2014 designated an area in their district as subject to additional licensing in respect of houses in multiple occupation (HMO's) consisting of two storeys.

The area affected covers all of the following wards within the Borough of Northampton: Abington (part of), Castle (part of), Kingsley, Delapre and Briar Hill (part of), Kingsthorpe, Obelisk (part of), Phippsville (part of), Semilong, Spring Park, St James (part of), St David's, Sunnyside and Trinity ("the Designated Area").

This scheme will be known as the Northampton Borough Council Designation for an Area for Additional Licensing of Houses in Multiple Occupation Scheme 2014 ("the Scheme").

The Scheme to which the designation applies has General Approval under section 58 Housing Act 2004 by the Secretary of State under The Housing Act 2004: Licensing of Houses in Multiple Occupation and Selective Licensing of Other Residential Accommodation (England) General Approval 2010. Where the premises is subjected to a decision by the Council as to its eligibility for licensing as an HMO (has a basement or floors above the first floor level) the Council will first consider whether the premises is subject to mandatory licensing and then in the alternative it will consider whether the Scheme applies.

First century for Ben Duckett, 19

A MAIDEN first class century for Ben Duckett left the youngster delighted as Northants drew against Somerset.

The wicketkeeper was unbeaten on 144, claiming 14 fours and three sixes to turn the game on its head for his side after facing 210 balls.

The 19-year-old told northantscricket.com: "I'm very happy. I didn't get runs in the last game, but have been working hard on my technique. I had a bit of luck today and tried to cash in on it at the end of my innings."

"I've come in at a similar stage in a few games this year and got starts without managing a big score. I was in the fifties for a while today because I was concentrating hard on going on."

"I hope it proves a breakthrough innings for me. I've made hundreds before, but not on the big stage. Now I know how to build an innings, fingers crossed I can take this form forward with me."

David Willey claimed two early wickets to start the test well for Northants on Sunday, but Alex Barrow put on a career-best 88 as Somerset posted 314 on the first day, with Northamptonshire picking up 39-0 loss before the end of the day.

Willey was pick of the bowlers on that first day as he notched up 4-64, while Mohammad Azharullah did his bit with 3-69.

There was plenty of rain on the second day as Northants increased their total to 135-4, but on day three, Duckett helped his team to claim their highest total of the season after they declared on 448-9.

The pitch was slow, so it looked unlikely that Northants would be able to claim the ten wickets they would need to secure a victory yesterday.

That possibility looked even more remote as opener Johann Myburgh put on a first wicket stand of 74 with Marcus Trescothick, with the former England man succumbing LBW to Willey for 34.

Myburgh went on to score 87, and Somerset were able to keep Northants at bay to deny them a rare win as they posted 235-6 in their second innings. Willey was once again pick of the bowlers in the second innings as he claimed 3-47.

Northants will begin an LV County Championship match against Warwickshire next Tuesday.

Meanwhile, England Women were due to play South Africa Women at the County Ground last night.

China Youth Games are worth the wait for Denny

ARCHERY

BY BEN BAKER

sport@isnmedia.co.uk

BRADLEY Denny insists he heads home from the Youth Olympic Games with his head held high after the Raunds archer more than held his own in Nanjing.

Despite arriving in China on Tuesday August 12, Denny had to wait a further ten days to get his assault at the second summer Youth Olympic Games underway.

But when the 17-year-old got started, finishing 11th in Friday's ranking round, there was no stopping him as 24 hours later he comfortably beat Prennong Murong of Bangladesh 6-0.

Denny then saw off the challenge of France's Thomas Koenig on Tuesday to set up a quarter-final clash with Brazilian Marcus D'Almeida that same day.

However that is where the Archers of Raunds starlet's journey ended as he lost 6-0.

"I was pretty pleased with how I performed in China, it is my best result at international event as an individual," he said.

"I definitely felt more pressure as I progressed through the competition, my shooting just wasn't there this afternoon, it was just one of those matches."

Denny suffered quarter-final heartbreak twice in Nanjing, exiting the mixed international team event alongside Japan's Miasa Koike at that stage too on Sunday.

But in a long list of positives from China, Denny admitted it was his perfect ten-point arrow in that 5-4 defeat that brings the biggest smile to his face.

"My highlight of the Games was definitely the mixed team event

Good things come to those who wait: Bradley Denny, who competed in the Archery for Great Britain quarter final match, my last arrow I shot in that," he added.

"I was really pleased with that, it didn't matter what I scored but the spirit was there."

The British Olympic Association prepares and leads British athletes at the summer, winter and youth Olympic Games. It works in partnership with sport National Governing Bodies to enhance Olympic success and is responsible for championing the Olympic Values. www.teamgb.com

Meanwhile, it was a bronze medal for Northampton Archery Club's Lizzie Cantopher in the Women's Recurve Archery GB National series finale at Wollaton Park, Nottingham.

Cantopher finished third after beating Ruth Welsh 94-83, and she was delighted to get the medal. Lizzie, who lives in Northampton, said: "I'm elated that I've won the bronze medal."

"I've been working hard all year at getting my form right, keeping strong, not letting my head get in the way and believing in the arrow."

"This win means everything to me, and I'm so glad to be representing older women, proving that we can achieve sporting success too."

New campaign begins at Gloucester

SAINTS

NORTHAMPTON Saints will begin their Aviva Premiership title defence against Gloucester Rugby on Friday night having secured the permanent signature of John Fisher.

He impressed during his trial during the summer, which saw him play games against Rotherham, Leinster and Newport-Gwent Dragons, and Saints' director of rugby Jim Mallinder says he has always been a fan of his.

"We're delighted to get him signed," said Mallinder.

"He's been with us in trial for the last few weeks and I've always rated him as a player."

"We didn't really have much hesitation and he stepped in really well."

"He's a versatile player and I'm really looking forward to watching him this year."

"He's got really good leadership capabilities and we're pleased with the signing."

"It's essential that you keep strengthening – we've got some real quality players and we trust our younger players coming through."

The summer has gone quickly for Mallinder, and he thinks the break has given the side a good opportunity to rest.

"The summer has gone pretty quickly and it's probably gone even quicker for the international players who have been away on tour."

"I've enjoyed the summer and I think all of the lads have as well – we've had a good break."

"We've really got stuck into the pre-season stuff and hopefully we're in a good position now."

"In an ideal world the international players would have a little bit longer but we're not in an ideal world and things come around very quickly."

"The players understand that, they appreciate it and they get on with it."

And with Gloucester on the agenda for Saints, Mallinder is expecting a tough first game.

"Gloucester have got some quality players without a doubt."

"I think they needed it because I think they got a bit bullied last year – I think they've recruited well."

Captain Collins will miss Daggers trip thanks to hamstring injury

COBBLERS

BY SCOTT KIRK
sport@snmedia.co.uk

NORTHAMPTON Town will be without skipper Lee Collins for this Saturday's trip to Dagenham and Redbridge after he injured his hamstring in the 1-0 success over Exeter City on Saturday.

Emile Sinclair is also rated as touch and go after sustaining an ankle problem.

New signings Ryan Cresswell and Ryan Watson could both make their Cobblers debuts with midfielder Darren Carter (hamstring) also set to return.

"Lee tweaked his hamstring on Saturday - we are still waiting on an assessment but he won't be available for the weekend," confirmed boss Chris Wilder.

"Emile is touch and go but Darren Carter trained in the week and he will be involved.

"Daniel Alfei is still carrying a bit of a knock but there is a situation with him that he has been called up by Wales under 21s and if he is fit then he will go with them.

"We've got seven or eight players out at the moment which is tough and that's why we needed to bring a couple of players in.

"The two players we signed will make us a better group, we are trying to build something here and I think this is a really exciting time for the football club."

Wilder says that happy memories from last season's trip to Dagenham won't count for anything when it comes to this time around.

The Cobblers won that game 3-0 to lift themselves out of League Two's relegation zone after they had spent the majority of the season in the bottom two, with an Ivan Toney brace and an Ian Morris wondergoal giving Northampton that crucial win.

But those memories need to be put on the backburner for this Saturday's game now as the Cobblers face the Daggers under entirely different circumstances this time around.

"I'm sure the game there at the end of last season will live long in the memory for our supporters but that game will count for nothing on Saturday," he said.

"It was a real group effort that day from the players and the supporters but Saturday will be a different game and it's two different teams with new players.

"We think we can win anywhere in League Two if we are right but if we're not focused then we can get turned over anywhere as well.

"Dagenham are forever the underdogs but they've had a good start to the season and we need to be up for the battle on Saturday.

"We can be pleased with our start to the season but we are looking to kick on.

"It's an evolving team and the additions we've made to the squad this week can only make us better.

"We've got some exciting players and we always look like we can score but we need to show a little bit more quality in and around the box."

The Cobblers go into the game on the back of a last-gasp victory over Exeter City at the weekend.

Marc Richards bagged his second goal of the season in the 89th minute to give the Cobblers their second win of the campaign.

Richards wasn't the only one to attempt an overhead kick during the game though, with Ivan Toney hitting the crossbar with an acrobatic effort earlier on in the tie.

Meanwhile, the draw for the second round of the Johnstone's Paint Trophy will be made on Soccer AM this Saturday morning, with the games taking place on the week beginning October 6.

Out of action: Captain Lee Collins will be an absentee for the Cobblers on Saturday due to a hamstring injury

Comment: Chris Wilder's side made to earn the points

COBBLERS

BY TOM REED
sport@snmedia.co.uk

Our columnist Tom Reed reflects on Northampton Town's last-gasp 1-0 success over Exeter City

MARC Richards' last-minute bicycle kick propelled the Cobblers to a 1-0 win over Exeter City at Sixfields on Saturday. Chris Wilder's side were made to earn the points by the Grecians and left it late to make a scoring impact on the game as they had done against Shrewsbury and York.

Given their financial worries and paper thin squad it was surprising that Paul Tisdale's side had the better of the early skirmishes. Yet, with the Cobblers failing to press, the Grecians' 5-3-2 formation and their own tidy passing made them the more effective first-half footballing unit. Chris Wilder went with a 4-4-2 line-up, preferring Emile Sinclair to Ivan Toney as a partner for Marc Richards up front. Meanwhile, loanee Joel Byrom started in central midfield with John-Joe O'Toole while Ben Tozer retained his right-back role.

For all their possession however, Exeter looked vulnerable down their right flank. On five minutes Chris Hackett found space to deliver a low cross to Sinclair, with the forward miskicking his shot. Then, seven minutes later, Sinclair fed the rapid Hackett yet his inswinging delivery found no-one in a claret shirt.

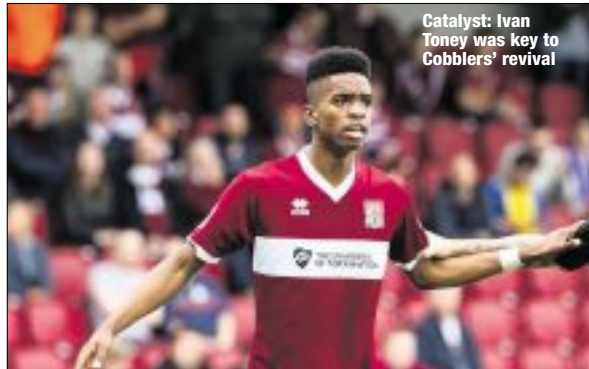

Northampton lacked bite in central positions and they lost a decent tackler in Lee Collins to what looked like a strained hamstring after half an hour. The defender's withdrawal saw attacking midfielder Lawson D'Ath come on at right back with Tozer switching to central defence.

In a match where wing-work dominated, the Cobblers displayed a left flank/ right flank imbalance with all of the play coming through Tozer/Hackett overlaps while southpaw Kaid Mohamed preferred to cut inside and his left back Robertson rarely crossed the halfway line.

With O'Toole off the pace in midfield and the Cobblers shadow boxing, Exeter had their best chance of the half when a low David Wheeler cross deflected off Zander Diamond and over the bar via a Matt Duke parry.

Cobblers' mascot Clarence the Dragon looked nonplussed and the rangy Sinclair took matters in his own hands a minute later, controlling the ball, knocking it round his defender and delivering a good first-time cross with Richards nowhere.

Maybe it was Wilder's game plan to give the shot-shy Grecians plenty of midfield ball to tire them out as Northampton began to set the agenda in the second half. The introduction of Ivan Toney on 50 minutes proved the catalyst for the Cobblers revival as patient play across the Grecians' box by Marc Richards and a peachy Hackett cross saw the 18-year-old go close.

Exeter's Matt Grimes and Christy Pym received call-ups to the England Under-20 squad this week but Toney proved the eye catcher. Kaid Mohamed challenged for Chris Hackett's sixty-eight minute high looping corner and the ball fell plum for Toney to produce an overhead kick which smacked off Exeter number one Pim's bar.

Northampton began to turn the screw and the relentless Toney should have doubled the Cobblers' lead two minutes later when showing brilliant feet to shimmy the ball past Exeter's best defender Scot Bennett, only for Pim to save with his feet.

Not that Kaid Mohamed was to be outdone in pace as the Cobblers left midfielder began to burn up the pitch with long range dribbles. The man known as K-MO made the hard yards on seventy minutes, finding Toney, who fed Hackett with the winger forcing a fine low save from Pim.

Exeter had played like a day out in Devon, neat, tidy and ultimately forgettable yet it looked like Paul Tisdale's side would scrape a draw. Step forward Ben Tozer and his wrecking ball long throw. The Plymouth born defender took great pleasure in hurling the ball for Marc Richards to finish with a superlative overhead kick which had the Sixfields faithful on their feet.

Wilder should have the side in for extra training on attacking crosses for a forward who can command the box and head what would have been a hatful against the Grecians. Still, the deadline day additions of Ryan Cresswell and Ryan Watson have bolstered the squad ahead of this weekend's trip to Dagenham. Travelling fans will be forgiven an extra pint at Liverpool Street before watching last minute Cobblers who prefer to turn up fashionably late.

IT WAS a busy transfer deadline day for Northampton Town on Monday as manager Chris Wilder brought in three new additions.

Centre back Ryan Cresswell signed for an undisclosed fee from Fleetwood Town at around 9.30pm on Tuesday night, just one and a half hours before the window shut.

Cresswell began his career at Sheffield United before joining Bury in 2008.

He signed for Fleetwood Town in July last year, and made 27 appearances for the Fylde Coast team but had only featured once for them this season.

The Cobblers have also signed Leicester City midfielder Ryan Watson on loan until the January transfer window.

The 20 year old 6ft 1in Watson, who plays in central midfield, started his career at Wigan Athletic, during which time he had a brief loan spell at Accrington Stanley.

After a successful trial, he joined the Premier League side in September 2013 and has been part of their development squad since.

He made his first team debut for the Foxes in this season's Capital One Cup.

Meanwhile, going the other way, Northampton Town striker Alex Nicholls has joined fellow League Two side Exeter City on a month's loan.

Nicholls recently battled back from a horrific leg break against Port Vale in 2012 that left him sidelined for 20 months.

But the crowd favourite, who had bagged seven goals in 15 appearances for Town before his injury, made a miraculous comeback in pre-season by scoring a hat-trick against non-league Sileby Rangers.

He was rewarded with a contract until January, and his recovery progressed further when he played his first competitive football match since his leg break in the Cobblers' 3-0 away loss at Bournemouth in the League Cup last Tuesday.

But boss Chris Wilder is keen to see the striker get more game time, and has sanctioned a move to an Exeter side who lost at Sixfields on Saturday thanks to a last-gasp Marc Richards winner.

Nicholls was named on the bench in the game but played no part as Cobblers picked up their second win of the season. He will help out a Grecians side who have been ravaged by a number of injuries.

Wilder said: "Alex has done wonderfully well to get back to where he is now.

"The next stage for him is to be playing regular first team football and this move will give him the opportunity to do that.

"Ryan is a player we have tracked since last Christmas.

"He is an all round good midfield player. He gets about the park, he is strong in the tackle and he can pass the ball well.

"He wants to come and play senior football and that is a really refreshing attitude.

"We have tried to bring him in before and I am really pleased we have been able to get the loan completed now.

"Thanks to Leicester City for allowing us to borrow Ryan, there is a good relationship between the clubs. They know we will look after him, he will help us and he will also gain valuable experience at the same time.

"I am delighted to sign Ryan Cresswell as well. He is a quality defender at this level."
